Highlights of the Quarter

- Continued Archaeology Works, a public workshop series, at Weedon Island Preserve Cultural and Natural History Center and New College Public Archaeology Lab - Thanks so much to USF grad student Lori O'Neal for doing a knapping demo with our workshop participants. It really helped them connect with the topic, and everyone had a great time with all the other activities as well!
- Thursday, September 19th at the Safety Harbor Public Library staff conducted a program about a forgotten part of the Tampa Bay area's past.... Cuban Fishing Ranchos! As part of Viva Florida 500 we presented about Ranchos and their effect on the development of our area. We created a month-long exhibit with artifacts from an area Rancho and had crafts for kids to make and take home with them.

Teamed up with Safety Harbor Library in September for a Viva Florida event on Cuban Fishing Ranchos. .
